EDITOR'S NOTES

Ever evolving we have made some changes to the fonts for this issue. It's nothing major but if you are reading online you may have to use the magnify a little more.

I got a little tired of the print issue looking like a kindergarten publication - the print was so large. We left the first two pages alone but it's a work in progress.

This month we feature model/actress Bunny Stewart. She was the lead actress in Bunny and Claude, a film short for fashion in 2015 as having a supporting role in the film Predatory Lender.

We also have Tammy Gomez. The first time I saw her I thought "My God, she looks just like (Prince's love interest in Graffiti Bridge) Ingrid Chavez. Just beautiful.

Also featured are Justine and Tara. Two amazing models from California. As you will notice all of the pictorials were taken by Richard Rendon and he really knocked it out of the park. We really appreciate all of his work for this issue.

As for the reading material, Rick Kennedy has written a nice piece on Trump's 7 Deadly Sins. It's a very interesting article. I enjoyed his take on the upcoming election.

I hope you enjoy and Please LIKE our page on Facebook to everything Top Floor including magazine updates and upcoming events -

Exposed

Liv Tyler set Instagram on fire when she posted accidentally on purpose a photo of her breast feeding. I swear it's like people haven't seen a breast before.

Smack it up, flip it, rub it down

During her birthday celebration Kylie Jenner and a few of her model friends took turns playing grab ass and taking photos. Damn, I'm sorry that I missed that party.

Rudy no!

Who would have thought that the Cosby Show's Keisha Knight Pulliam would end up in an abusive relationship? It's been reported that Keisha's estranged husband Ed Hartwell is so abusive that he actually threatened to kill their unborn child. Keisha, who is 5 months pregnant say that he has been engaging in "cruel treatment."

It's about damn time!

After years of being a super sexy fucking race car driver Danica Patrick has finally decided to show us a little something. There's not much to it, just a little nipple. It's not even hard...but I'll take it.

And now a Rihanna moment...

This Rihanna moment has been brought to you by the letter R...lol.

What a Horndog

What the hell is wrong with Orlando Bloom. Here he is on a beach in Italy, grabbing Katy Perry's boobs and riding on a surf board WITH HIS DINKER OUT. Orlando is an attractive A list celebrity. Yet, he's acting like a 5th grader with his first girlfriend. Not to mention he's making clean cut Katy look a bit slutty.

Fk you, pay me!

Scottie Pippen's wife Larsa is hella mad about $600k that Laettner still owes Pip. He borrowed the money for a deal to buy the Grizzlies but the deal fell through and Laettner seems to have pocketed all but $600k. Larsa called him out on Twitter stating *"It's crazy you've been f*ng us around forever, homie how do u sleep at night."*

Sweet Hart

Kevin Hart and long time girlfriend Eniko Parrish finally tied the knot. It happened 8/13/16 in a small ceremony. When asked about his plans after the ceremony, his reply was “She not ready, she’s not ready.” LOL, just kidding about that last part.

In Other Wedding News...

Ray J and Princess Love exchanged vows in front of 150 guest The star-studded affair took place at the Vibiana in Los Angeles, California, and reportedly featured Ray’s big sis Brandy singing “At Last” as the couple’s first dance, and Anthony Hamilton singing at the ceremony.

Ass Out

Can someone please explain the definition of booty shorts to Ariel Winter? On this particular day she went out during the day and night wearing basically the same type of outfit with no booty.

Don’t call it a comeback...

I recently read on a some site that Vida Guerra was finally back where she belongs...in a bikini. I’m thinking, where has this guy been? Vida released some truly sexy photos, a gif and video around Christmas time. If you follow her on Facebook then you would know that she hasn’t stopped modeling just because she’s not appearing on every magazine cover like she was 10 years ago doesn’t mean she’s dead. Guerra is alive and well, fit and fantastic.

Round Mound

In other big booty news, Kourtney is the latest Kardashian to join her sisters Kim and Khloe in the WOW LOOK HER BUTT Hall of Fame. For those of you who don’t know, let me explain what goes into the making of a perfect or at least respectable ass...

1. Hips
 2. Curvature that does not disappear not matter the position
 3. A thin belly and waist
- Kourtney totally qualifies...Welcome!

Slippage

A little tea with your tit Lindsay? During her birthday celebration Lohan had a little nip slip probably cause by the gentleman with his arm around her...and the fact that she’s not wearing a bra #underwearchoicesmatter.

Story of the Month

A judge has overturned the conviction of Brendan Dassey one of the co-defendants in the Steven Avery trial. In case you don’t recall, we covered this in the January issue. Our article was based on the Netflix series Making a Murderer. I’m very happy and excited that Brenden will finally go home!

There are so many sexy blondes out there it was really difficult to choose just a few.

However, we were able to put together a list of some of America's finest (all above ground except for Anna Nicole - RIH) blondes and one from Manchester, England.

I think you have a nice selection, so who would you rather?

LISA WELCH - PLAYMATE OF THE MONTH SEPTEMBER 1980

Lisa was a military brat that spent most of her young life traveling from town to town. Altogether she has lived in Maryland (where she was born), West Germany, Alabama, Arkansas, Missouri, Alaska, Hawaii and San Francisco. By the time Lisa was old enough to make her own decisions she decided to settle down in San Fran. Lisa attended the College of Marin in Marin County and studied fashion retailing for two years. Then on a short trip through Los Angeles, she stopped at the Playboy modeling agency just for the hell of it and was persuaded to try out for Playmate.

Lisa credits her Playmate experience for helping to "overcome my shyness. I'm not nearly as reserved as I used to be."

Q & A

Top Floor Magazine answers the questions submitted to the Playboy Advisor

My wife has developed an annoying habit. She calls me honey. It sounds like a term of endearment, but for some reason it makes me cringe. It's never "Honey, let's have sex." It's always a variation of "Honey why did you do that?" or "Honey, can you please take care of that already?" What can I do? It feels weird to ask her to stop.
- L.R., New Orleans, Louisiana

Well the first thing that I would do is explain how it makes you feel and then ask her to stop. If that doesn't work, there are a few phrases that come to mind that may work...

- Shut that honey shit the fuck up
- Don't fucking call me that anymore
- Say that shit one more 'gain

And the more extreme...

- If you call me honey one more time I will end you.

I'm certainly hoping that just talking to her works but if not, give these phrases a try and I'm sure she will get the point.

I'm with a younger woman who is 11 years younger than I am. I want to be with her forever, but I have issues. She used to be a stripper, she has been married four times, she has a child out of wedlock and has slept with women, and for a while she and one of her husbands were swingers. She plays it all off as no big deal but I keep having doubts, and I don't think she passing along all the details. Am I a prude or just jealous? I love her but I think badly of her sometimes. Please help. - M.A., Atlanta, Georgia

Ok, let me get this straight...you know she's was a stripper so she worked in the sex industry, she got knocked up by some guy that she's no longer with, she's been married more times than J.Lo and while she was married to one guy she engaged in activities where they openly fucked other people, most likely in an open setting...how many more fucking details did you need? I'm going to be totally straight with you...you don't love her. She is interesting, younger and openly sexual. But when you have sex with her, the other things that she's done run through your mind which makes you disgusted with her. You refuse to accept her for who she is and what's she's done. This is only going to create bigger problems in the future as you get deeper into this relationship. LEAVE NOW!

Seriously?

Let's start off with a few photos that gives the word seriously a whole new meaning.

The website sadanduseless.com has shown us the way.

Paige Stewart attempt to take a selfie in knee high water didn't turn out the way she intended.

She says that she envisioned a scene from the Little Mermaid where she is singing Part of the World on a rock and the wave comes crashing behind her.

I guess she wasn't aware of the power of the ocean and was oblivious to the fact that she was not a cartoon character because that wave came along, knocked her over and the video ends with her underwater.

She says sarcastically that it "Turned out awesome. Just like the movie."

Thorns

By Stephanie Rose

Ahhhh it's that time again..

The beauty of Autumn; the coolness, the crispness, the pumpkin spice, and BACK TO SCHOOL!

As a parent I can tell you the BEST thing about Autumn is kids going back to school..lol

Now that all the celebrating is over let's get to the real deal here, schools are great and all to keep our kids busy and teach them how to take and pass a test but let's not forget where kids truly learn their life skills- PARENTS!

Take the time to talk with your kids, check homework and such. Before you pick up the phone and call to complain to your kid's school about what they should be teaching take a step back...

Schools can only teach what they are allowed to teach, but guess what? As a parent you can teach your child any damn thing you want. If you want to teach them Japanese writing...Go for it! Want your child to learn cursive (which they no longer teach in school)? Teach them!

We are all teachers! We are all students! We all learn and teach! Teach and preach what is important!

We need to start teaching acceptance and love if we are ever going to make a positive change in the world.

Remember, to teach love is to teach peace!

One world ~ One love!

Every Rose has its Thorns and this is one of mine!

Love,

Stephanie Rose

BLAIR WITCH

A group of college students venture into the Black Hills Forest in Maryland to uncover the mysteries surrounding the disappearance of James' sister who many believe is connected to the legend of the Blair Witch. At first the group is hopeful, especially when a pair of locals offer to act as guides through the dark and winding woods, but as the endless night wears on, the group is visited by a menacing presence. Slowly, they begin to realize the legend is all too real and more sinister than they could have imagined.

IN THEATRES

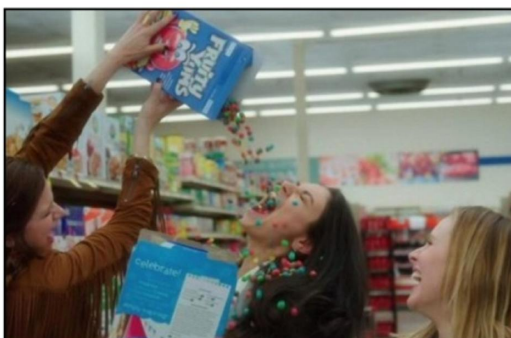

Sausage Party

Follows one sausage leading a group of supermarket products on a quest to discover the truth about their existence and what really happens when they become chosen to leave the grocery store.

The Secret Life of Pets

Set in a Manhattan apartment building, after the two-legged residents head for work and school, their pets gather to start their day, which consists of hanging out, trading humiliating stories about their owners, and helping each other work up adorable looks that will lead to more snacks. It turns out that Snowball is the leader of an army of pets that were abandoned and are determined to get back at humanity and every owner-loving pet.

Bad Moms

Amy Mitchell (Mila Kunis) puts her family first, second, and third. But her man-child husband, high-maintenance kids and idiot boss are taking a toll. She gives and gives, and gives and gives, and then gives a little more, but it's never enough. When the alpha moms (Christina Applegate, Annie Mumolo and Jada Pinkett Smith) at her kids' school push her too far, Amy finally snaps.

Amanda Knox

Netflix has done it again. They are hoping that the Amanda Knox documentary will have the same effect that Making a Murderer had for Steven Avery. The documentary takes a look into 2007 murder of Meredith Kercher, her flatmate. Knox, then a twenty-year-old student, had raised the alarm after returning from spending the night with her boyfriend, Raffaele Sollecito. Following an interrogation, the conduct of which is a matter of dispute, Knox implicated herself and an employer. Knox and Sollecito were initially accused of murdering Kercher while acting with the employer, but he was released and substituted for Rudy Guede after Guede's blood-stained fingerprints were found on Kercher's possessions. A guilty verdict at Knox's initial trial and her 26-year sentence caused international controversy, as U.S. forensic experts thought evidence at the crime scene was incompatible with her involvement. It's a case that continues to be intriguing to the entire world.

Available on Netflix September 30th

Gabriel Iglesias - Road Trip

Stand-up comedian Gabriel Iglesias is also known as the Fluffy comic in a Hawaiian shirt. He is noted for coining the phrase - I'm not Fat... I'm Fluffy! Iglesias's comedy is amusing without using a single curse word. Great stand up.

Mike Epps

I love the guy to death, he's funny on the radio, he hilarious in movies but when it comes to his stand up comedy, I can't help but feel like I'm being taken advantage of. His stand up reminds me of the drunk guy at a party that just keeps telling jokes until something makes you laugh. NO...NO...NO!

Throwback Album of the Month

THE TOP SELLING ALBUM OF ALL TIME. Released November of 1982 with a production budget of $750,000 the album went on to be certified platinum an astounding 32 times. In case you don't know what that means...it sold 32 million copies in the United States alone. The track Billie Jean is still in heavy rotation; it is played on over 90% of the world's radios and receives more than 250,000 spins per week in clubs around the world. One of the things that I found fascinating about Michael Jackson other than the fact the Rolling Stone turned him down for a cover interview was that his name was mentioned among one of the most recognized people in the world along side of folks like Sir Isaac Newton and Buddha - Wow!

HOTTIE OF THE MONTH

Dayami Padron

Dayami Padron was born in the city of La Havana in Cuba on December 15th 1988, at the tender age of 17 her family, like many others from Cuba, made the bold move to come to the United States in search of freedom and the American Dream. In 2008 at the age of 18 Dayami initiated her modeling career and decided to enter one of the most prestigious beauty contest and reality shows on the Univision Network, and not knowing what to expect, placed 2nd place. That same year she also obtained the title of "Reina" (Queen) on another very popular Univision TV Show called Republica Deportiva. Due to all the support and recognition in such a short period of time, Dayami decided to really focus on her career as a Model and Actress. Dayami continues to distinguish herself in several areas of the modeling world: featuring in Magazines, Radio, TV Programs, Soap Operas, Commercials and Numerous Music Videos.

WHO'D YOU RATHER?

Pamela Anderson

Pamela Anderson is probably 3rd in line as the most recognizable modern day blonde bombshell just behind Marilyn Monroe and Farrah Fawcett - Yes, Marilyn still gets major respect in the world of blonde bombshells. Anderson is the only model to appear on the cover of Playboy an record thirteen times.

Pamela is a member of the animal rights movement and has conducted campaigns condemning the commercial fur industry and promoting veganism through the animal rights organization People for the Ethical Treatment of Animals (PETA). In 2006, she was inducted into Canada's Walk of Fame.

Famous since her birth as Canada's "Centennial Baby", having been the first baby born on July 1, 1967, the 100th anniversary of Canada's official founding via the Constitution Act, 1867. Anderson is probably the most infamous celebrity in the world for popularizing the publicity tool we have come to know as the "sex tape". In our poll she received 89% of the votes, making her this month who'd you rather.

Modeling has been a platform for me to be a part of an amazing art community. I love art and creating something eye catching, something that stops you in your tracks, something that makes you look twice. I have shot with many photographers and love the experiences and outcomes. I am excited to create more!

I love being in front of a camera. I have been told that I have a strong knowledge of poses. I primarily edge towards the artsy side. For me being in front of a camera is like acting. It is a fun escape from stresses of life. - Tammy Gomez

Honey West Retro Presents

XRCO WINNERS 2016

This month, I thought it would be fun to get back to my “roots”, covering the news in the adult movie biz. With that in mind, let’s talk about the XRCO Awards that were held June 2016 in Hollywood.

For those who don’t know, XRCO is the X-Rated Critics Association, which has been around since 1985. It’s one of the few adult awards shows that isn’t open to the public. It’s by invitation only to writers, critics and bloggers who regularly cover the industry. They are the ones who vote on these awards.

The show itself is more like a big party, everybody has a great time showing the love for talented performers who have done hot and fabulous work that deserves attention from the previous production year.

Actually, I have a selfish reason for covering the XRCO show this year - one of my all-time fave performers, Derrick Pierce, won the award for Best Actor in Magic Mike XXXL A Hardcore Parody. . As some of our regular TFM readers know, I’ve been a big fan of Derrick Pierce almost from the beginning of his career when I was writing for an adult video review site I happened to review one of his movies and was instantly hooked! .

So, I was super excited to see that he won a well-deserved award for his performance in Magic Mike XXXL. And as he says about Channing Tatum’s performance , unlike Channing, he wasn’t afraid to give a lap dance that went A LOT farther than the lap dance! Lol....

Derrick Pierce continues to be an active performer in the industry. He says he’d love to do a few more parodies, including a Thundercat cartoons parody! Now, that I gotta see lol! And as always, he has many projects happening in the mainstream arena also, including the other big love of his life, personal fitness training. Before going into the adult industry, he was a personal trainer. Check out his fitness blog, Fitness Innovation Training:

The continuing trend in the XXX biz of adult parodies has kept a lot of performers , writers, technicians and behind the scenes people employed during a difficult time in the industry. Dealing with repressive laws such as the “condom law” and the ongoing fierce competition from freebie online content, it’s been a rough time in the adult movie business. But apart from those issues, porn-stars are really just frustrated actors who love to give their acting chops a workout and I gotta admit, some of the parodies are pretty damn funny and entertaining! It’s proven to be a popular genre which I think is here to stay.

A total of three XXX parodies won awards at XRCO:

Best Comedy Parody: Peter Pan XXX (Wicked Pictures),

Best Parody Drama: Magic Mike XXXL

Best Parody Comic Batman v. Superman XXX (Wicked Pictures).

I’ve seen a trailer for Peter Pan XXX. and it’s actually quite hot and funny. The porn version of the song “You Can Fly” is “We Will Fuck”. What did you expect from a Porno Peter Pan, huh? The big question is: does Captain Hook use his...uh.... big hard :“hook” on dear Wendy? And where does Tinkerbelle’s sexy little self fit into the hardcore action?

Hmmmm. It’s definitely on my must see list!

XRCO Female Performer of the Year went to sultry Adriana Chechik. She also won the Superslut award! Gotta love those crazy porn award categories! I'm sure she's honored to be a Superslut, cuz that's obviously way better than being a regular, everyday garden variety slut, right? lol....

I think Adriana resembles the actress Elizabeth Hurley.
The New Starlet award went to hottie Abella Danger

MILF of the Year - industry veteran Kendra Lust

Hey, where's the blondes? Ahh, that's better! Best Actress - Penny Pax in The Submission Of Emma Marx (New Sensations)

Trump's 7 Deadly Sins

By Rick Kennedy

*All seven and we'll watch them fall
They stand in the way of love
And we will smoke them all
With an intellect and a savior-faire
No one in the whole universe
Will ever compare*

*I am yours now and you are mine
And together we'll love through all
Space and time, so don't cry
One day all seven will die - Prince*

To us liberals, Donald Trump began as nothing more than a freak show. Saying things so outrageous, most of which were so sprinkled with profanity that the major networks wouldn't play them. It wasn't until I watched an episode of Real Time with Bill Maher that I became aware of what he was actually saying at his rallies.

At one point he said "we're going to bomb the shit out of ISIS." And when discussing losing jobs to China and Mexico, Trump said, "we're going to kick their asses."

Trump while discussing the economy and jobs says "we can have businesses that use to be in New Hampshire that are now in Mexico come back to New Hampshire." Trump goes on to say and "and you can tell them to go fuck themselves."

During one rally a supporter screamed something inaudible in reference to one of Trump's primary opponents and Trump told the crowd "She said he's a pussy."

At another rally where there was problems with the microphone, Trump told the crowd "Whoever put in this mic system, don't pay the son of a bitch that put it in."

This was early in the campaign and not ONE network bothered to cover the type of language being used a Presidential candidate.

Making America Fucking Great Again!

His supporters were eating it up.

He has risen to the top of the GOP with a plethora of racist, hate filled statements making him evil incarnate to liberals, independents and even members of his own party. For our part I've compiled a list of "deadly" sins that will prevent Trump from bringing his slogan "Make American Great Again" to fruition.

Racism

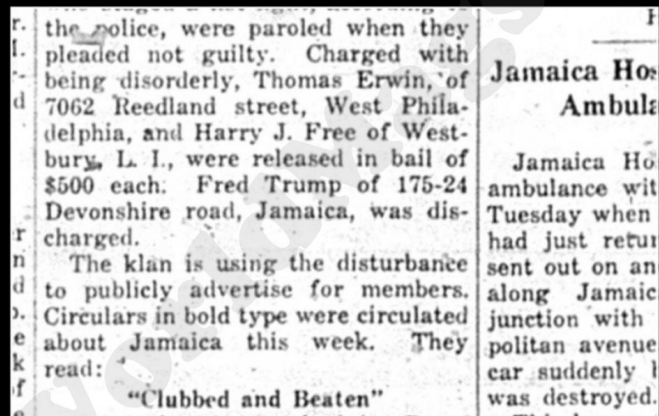

The jury is out whether or not Donald's father, Fred Trump, was a former Klan member.

According to the Vice website versions of this story emerged last September when Boing Boing dug up an old New York Times article from May of 1927 that listed a Fred Trump among those arrested at a Klan rally in Jamaica, Queens, when "1,000 Klansmen and 100 policemen staged a free-for-all," in the streets. Donald Trump's father would have been 21 in 1927 and had spent most of his life in Queens.

As Boing Boing pointed out, the Times account simply names Fred Trump as one of the seven individuals arrested at the rally, and it states that he was released without charges, leaving room for the possibility that he "may have been an innocent bystander, falsely named, or otherwise the victim of mistaken identity during or following a chaotic event."

A few weeks after Boing Boing unearthed that 88-year-old scoop, the New York Times asked Donald Trump about the possibility that his father had been arrested at a Klan event. The younger Trump denied it all, telling interviewer Jason Horowitz that "it never happened" four times. When Horowitz asked if his father had lived at 175-24 Devonshire Road—the address listed for the Fred Trump arrested at the 1927 Klan rally—Donald dismissed the claim as "totally false."

"We lived on Wareham," he told Horowitz. "The Devonshire—I know there is a road 'Devonshire,' but I don't think my father ever lived on Devonshire." Trump went on to deny everything else in the Times' account of the 1927 rally: "It shouldn't be written because it never happened, number one. And number two, there was nobody charged."

An article about the rally, published by the Long Island Daily Press on June 2, 1927, mentions that there were seven arrestees without listing names, and claims that all of the individuals arrested were wearing Klan attire. The story, titled "Meeting on Parade Is Called Off," focuses on the police actions at the rally, noting criticism of the cops for brutally lashing out at the Klan supporters, who had assembled during a Memorial Day parade.

So who knows if Trump has Klan blood flowing in him. What we do know is both Donald and Fred practiced housing discrimination.

In a lawsuit filed by the US Department of Justice alleged that Trump Management Corporation had violated the Fair Housing Act of 1968 by systematically denying people rentals "because of race and color."

In 1975, the Trumps made a deal with the government to resolve the suit without an admission of guilt. According to a New York Times story from June 11, 1975, the Trump Management Corporation "promised not to discriminate against blacks, Puerto Ricans, and other minorities." But in 1978, the Justice Department filed another discrimination suit against the company, alleging that the Trumps weren't complying with the original terms of the 1975 settlement.

A 1979 story in the Village Voice chronicled the rise of Trump's real estate empire, including allegations of racial discrimination at properties managed by Trump. According to the Voice, when there were vacancies in a Trump housing block, rental applications were secretly marked with the applicant's race, and doormen were coached to discourage black people from renting. At times, Trump rental agents were allegedly told simply not to rent to black people. In 1983, the New York State Division of Housing and Community Renewal looked at two "Trump Village" residential properties, and found that they were 95 percent white.

Just as he showed signs of racism in his residential properties Trump plans on claiming the United States of America and his property. He will decide who stays and who goes, who is allowed to enter and who will be denied access to the American dream. He is completely fascinated with Mexican immigrants, making Building A Wall the cornerstone of his campaign. I guess he isn't aware that only 28% of the immigrants in this country are Mexican. Which brings me to his next sin.

Prejudice

It has become a staple of republican politics to attack Mexican immigration. John McCain used his campaign to tell American's that we need to "complete the dang fence" during a commercial. While Mexicans make up the largest single group of immigrants in the country, what about the other 72%? There are immigrants from India, China, the Philippines, El Salvador, Vietnam, Cuba, Korea, the Dominican Republic and so on. Where is their wall?

You want to discuss a real problem?

How about the fact that 26% of the CFO's of major corporations feel that India is the ideal location outsourcing? Which is why almost every time you pick up the phone to dial customer service...well, they have a very familiar accent and you know exactly who you are talking to and where your call went.

While at the same time Mexican undocumented immigrants make up a little more than 3% of the American workforce. Yet, 51% of Americans believe that they are competing with undocumented Mexican immigrants for their jobs.

Trump is playing on the fears already embedded in the America psyche, especially the republican base. We are going to build a wall and make Mexico pay for it is probably the most ridiculous claim that I've ever heard a politician make but it attacks two areas of the base - those who think that Mexican immigration is a problem and those who don't want their tax dollars going to a program that has already cost tax payers in excess of $700 billion.

Bigotry

I thought the scariest thing that I have ever heard out a politician's mouth was during the republican convention when Trump said...

'I Alone Can Fix It'

Breaking with two centuries of political tradition, Donald Trump didn't ask Americans to place their trust in each other or in God, but rather, in him.

Some people get bigotry confused with prejudice but they are far from the same. Bigotry is intolerance toward those who hold different opinions from oneself.

Or Donald Trump.

- I alone can fix this.
- I know more about ISIS than the generals do...believe me.
- The earlier example where Trump denied that the incident with his father ever happened. Even going as far as lying about where they lived.
- Mocking New York Times reporter, Serge Kovalski who is disabled.
- I don't want the people from Syria coming in because we don't know who they are.

Then what scared me the most was his speech that was supposed to win over "the Black" vote.

"No group in America has been more harmed by Hillary Clinton's policies than African Americans," he said, apparently pointing to individuals in the crowd. "No group. No group. If Hillary Clinton's goal was to inflict pain to the African American community, she could not have done a better job. It is a disgrace."

"Detroit tops the list of most dangerous cities in terms of violent crime, number one," he said from a city 90 minutes away from Detroit with a population that is 93 percent white. "This is the legacy of the Democratic politicians who have run this city. This is the result of the policy agenda embraced by crooked Hillary Clinton."

"Look at how much African American communities are suffering from Democratic control. To those I say the following: What do you have to lose by trying something new like Trump? What do you have to lose?" he asked. "You live in your poverty, your schools are no good, you have no jobs, 58 percent of your youth is unemployed. What the hell do you have to lose?"

Are you fucking kidding me?

The audacity is off the charts.

What the hell do you have to lose?

Trump made the assumption that somehow the African-American community is supposed to trust him because they are too stupid to realize what and who is actually effecting their communities.

Unless Donald Trump is either God or King there isn't a damn thing that he could to change the circumstances that African-Americans face.

That brings me the next sin.

Ignorance

I'm sorry but this motherfucker doesn't know a damn thing about...well, just about everything.

That's the thing about a trust fund kid.

They like to think that it's them who actually put in the "work" but it's usually the parents who put in the work and they are then put in charge, with a support group that's already in place to carry on the family name.

Let's just use a different example.

Do you think that Christie, Marston, Cooper or David Hefner would be capable of running the country? Or would they be better suited carrying on the Playboy brand that their Dad High Hefner created?

Trump's Dad built a real estate business from an $800 loan that he got from his mother. Instead of closing the doors when he got up in years he left it for his son Donald to run. There were already people employed there who knew how to get things done, all Donald had to do was step in and tell them what he wanted to do.

As far as his education...

When he was young, he went to the private Kew-Forest School in Forest Hills, Queens, where his father, Frederick, a very wealthy real estate developer, was on the governing board. Behavior problems led to Donald's exit from the school, at which point he was sent to the New York Military Academy at age 13 by his parents, who, according to Biography.com, hoped "the discipline of the school would channel his energy in a positive manner."

He did well there, and then went to Fordham University, a Jesuit school in the Bronx, for two years, before transferring to the University of Pennsylvania and studied economics for two years, graduating in 1968 with a bachelor's degree. He took undergraduate classes at Penn's famed Wharton School of Business. Though he was not enrolled in Wharton's prestigious MBA program, the Spring 2007 Wharton Alumni Magazine featured Trump, with this headline, "The Best Brand Name in Real Estate."

Where do you think he got that label? Right...his father.

Trump claims that he graduated first in his class but William Geist reported that "the commencement program from 1968 does not list him as graduating with honors of any kind," even though "just about every profile ever written about Mr. Trump states that he graduated first in his class at Wharton in 1968." ... In 1988, New York magazine reported that the idea that Trump had graduated first in his class was a "myth."

As pointed out in her article for the Washington Post Donald Trump is nothing more than a political buffoon. He is great at branding products but does that make him qualified to hold the highest office in the world?

No.

And Donald Trump knows this. That's why it's become a he said he said between Trump and Governor John Kasich as to whether Kasich was offered the position of the most powerful VP (look out Dick Cheney) in history, in charge of both foreign and domestic policy.

Kasich denies ever receiving the call but it's rumored that Donald Jr. reached out to Kasich top advisor John Weaver with the offer.

"He needs an experienced person to do the part of the job he doesn't want to do. He sees himself more as the chairman of the board, than even the CEO, let alone the COO," Trump's campaign chair Paul Manafort said.

Trump never expected to get this far and I'm almost certain that he is literally shitting his pants at the thought of not only having to work that hard, but the thought of failing. That's a big stage to flop on.

Greed

According the New York Times Donald J. Trump regularly boasts that he is self-funding his presidential bid, but new campaign finance filings show that he is also shifting plenty of money back to himself in the process.

According to documents submitted to the Federal Election Commission, Mr. Trump, whose campaign has just $1.3 million cash on hand, paid at least $1.1 million to his businesses and family members in May for expenses associated with events and travel costs. The total represents nearly a fifth of the $6 million that his campaign spent in the month.

The spending raised eyebrows among campaign finance experts and some of Mr. Trump's critics who have questioned whether the presumptive Republican nominee, who points to his business acumen as a case for his candidacy, is trying to do what he has suggested he would in 2000 when he mulled making an independent run: "It's very possible that I could be the first presidential candidate to run and make money on it."

He could end up turning a profit if he repaid himself for the campaign loans," said Paul S. Ryan, a campaign finance expert with the Campaign Legal Center. "He could get all his money back plus the profit margin for what his campaign has paid himself for goods and services."

While most candidates list an array of vendors providing goods and services on their filings, Mr. Trump's is packed with payments to his various clubs and buildings, his fleet of planes and his family. The self-proclaimed billionaire is required by law to account for his spending this way to prevent his companies from making illegal corporate donations to his campaign. In 2015, about $2.7 million was paid to at least seven companies Mr. Trump owns or to people who work for his real estate and branding empire, repaying them for services provided to his campaign.

In May, the biggest-ticket item was Mr. Trump's use of the Mar-a-Lago Club, his Florida resort, which was paid $423,000. The campaign paid $350,000 to TAG Air for his private airplanes, $125,000 to Trump Restaurants and more than $170,000 to Trump Tower, the Manhattan skyscraper that houses the campaign's headquarters.

Mr. Trump's family also profited from the campaign, his son Eric's Virginia wine business has also cashed in.

And Mr. Trump, who has said he will not take a salary if he is elected president, paid himself $3,085 in May. The disbursements are related to travel expenses, according to the filings.

Mr. Ryan said that the extent to which Mr. Trump was utilizing his own businesses for his run was unprecedented and that because of his unique financial circumstances, he was wading into territory that went beyond the commission's guidance.

President Obama mentioned during one of the White House Correspondents' dinners that Donald Trump runs for President when he has something to promote.

Truth.

Only this time he fucked up and ruined everything that he would have had to promote by opening his campaign with racist rhetoric. Like Richard Gere in An Officer and a Gentleman, at that point he had no place else to go.

Dishonesty

We all know that a murderer will kill you, a thief will steal from you but you never know where you stand with a liar.

When Politico attempted to measure how many lies Trump told over the course of 4.6 hours of speeches, they found that he lied, on average, once every five minutes.

When Huffington Post catalogued his lies over the course of just one town hall event, they came up with 71 lies.

We all expect politicians to make promises that they can't keep, exaggerate or tell a little white lie here and there to get elected. Donald Trump is a different political animal altogether.

He says things (ON FUCKING TELEVISION, MIND YOU) then claims that he was misunderstood, that he was misquoted or that it NEVER happened and he never said it.

Roll tape...

- March 30: Trump claims MSNBC edited their released version of his interview with Chris Matthews in which Trump stumbled on abortion: "You really ought to hear the whole thing. I mean, this is a long convoluted question. This was a long discussion, and

- and they just cut it out. And, frankly, it was extremely — it was really convoluted." Nope; that was a lie.
- March 29: Trump lies that Wisconsin's effective unemployment rate is 20%, saying, ""What? Is it 20 percent? Effective or regular? I mean just -- effective unemployment rate, 20 percent. Hey, this is out of the big book." According to the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, The U-3 official unemployment rate in Wisconsin was 4.6 percent in 2015; Wisconsin's U-6 rate for 2015 was 8.3 percent.
- March 27: Trump claims Cruz bought the rights to the ad featuring a nude Melania Trump - Lie!
- March 8: Lying about how much was spent in one week against him: "So many horrible, horrible things said about me in one week. $38 million worth of horrible lies." According to The Tracking Firm, every Republican dollar spent by Trump's opponents on TV and radio from March 1 through 7 amounted to $10.57 million, and not all of it was directed against Trump. Lie!

There are more than a hundred more!

Hate

The most horrifying/eye opening Trump has done for Americans is open many eyes to how many of our neighbors, friends and relatives are ignorant, bigots or racist.

Thanks to this new thing called Facebook and other forms of social media we finally know why Cindy in programming is such a fucking bitch.

It's ugly but thanks DT for opening our eyes to why certain people in our lives are assholes.

It's a scary time in our lives right now. We have two of the worst political candidates running for President and we have to pick one of the lesser of two evils.

The problem is that one is clown with no political experience and the other is highly experienced despite the number of controversies surrounding her campaign. Most of which there is no there, there.

I hope for the sake of our country that people get out, vote and make the right choice.

Barbie

How do you know Barbie is not a slut? Because her legs don't open.

Confused Dad

A group of fathers are sitting around talking about their teenage daughters. One dad says, "I think my 16 year old is smoking; I found an empty cigarette pack under her bed." All the other fathers say in unison, "Oh no!" Then a second dad says, "That's nothing. I found an empty liquor bottle under my 16 year old's bed." All the other fathers say in unison, "Oh dear!" Then a third dad says, "Mine's worse than both of those combined: I went into my 16 year old daughter's room and found a used condom." All the other fathers say in unison, "Jesus Christ!" The third father replies "Yeah, I didn't know she had a dick!"

Oral Fixation

A mom of an eight year old boy is awaiting her son's arrival from school. As he runs in, he says he needs to talk to her about making babies. He claims he knows about the development of a fetus, but doesn't understand the answer to the million dollar question. Namely, how does the sperm get into the woman? The mom asks the boy what he thinks the answer is. The boy says that the sperm is manufactured in the man's stomach, rises up to his chest, then throat, and into his mouth, where he then kisses the woman and deposits the sperm into her mouth. The mom tells her boy that it is a good guess, but it's wrong. She gives him a hint by telling him that the sperm comes out of the man's penis. Suddenly, the boy's face becomes quite red and he says, "You mean you put your mouth on that thing?"

25th Anniversary

A man and his wife go to their honeymoon hotel for their 25th anniversary. As the couple reflected on that magical evening 25 years ago, the wife asked the husband, "When you first saw my naked body in front of you, what was going through your mind?" The husband replied, "All I wanted to do was to f*ck your brains out, and suck your t*ts dry." Then, as the wife undressed, she asked, "What are you thinking now?" He replied, "It looks as if I did a pretty good job."

Q: What is the lightest thing in the world?

A: A penis because just a thought can lift it.

Loose lips

An old man goes to a church, and is making a confession:

Man: "Father, I am 75 years old. I have been married for 50 years. All these years I had been faithful to my wife, but yesterday I was intimate with an 18 year old."

Father: "When was the last time you made a confession?"

Man: "I never have, I am Jewish."

Father: "Then why are telling me all this?"

Man: "I'm telling everybody!"

Auction

A man and a wife were in bed one morning when the wife said, "I had a strange dream last night. I dreamed I was at a penis auction. Long penises were going for $100 and thick penises were going for $300." The husband asked, "What would mine go for?" The wife replied, "They were giving ones like yours away for free." The husband said, "I also had a dream last night about an auction where they were selling juicy vaginas for $500 and tight vaginas for $1,000." "How about mine?" the wife asked and the husband replied, "That was where they were holding the auction."

Truth at last

The Penis Study. The American Government funded a study to see why the head of a man's penis was larger than the shaft. After one year and $180,000, they concluded that the reason that the head was larger than the shaft was to give the man more pleasure during sex. After the US published the study, the French decided to do their own study. After $250,000 and three years of research, they concluded that the reason the head was larger than the shaft was to give the woman more pleasure during sex. Canadians, unsatisfied with these findings, conducted their own study. After two weeks and a cost of around $75.46, and two cases of beer, they concluded that it was to keep a man's hand from flying off and hitting himself in the forehead.

Straight Talk

A guy's talking to a girl in a bar.

He asks her, "What's your name?"

She says, "Carmen."

He says, "That's a nice name. Who named you, your mother?"

She says, "No, I named myself."

He says, "Why Carmen?"

She says, "Because I like cars and I like men. What's your name?"

He says, "Beerfuck."

Research

There is more money being spent on breast implants and Viagra today, than on Alzheimer's research. This means that by 2040, there should be a large elderly population with perky boobs, huge erections, and absolutely no recollection of what to do with them.

Sister

My sister asked me to take off her clothes. So I took off her shirt. Then she said, "Take off my skirt." So I took off her skirt. "Take off my shoes." I took off her shoes. "Now take off my bra and panties." So I took them off. Then she looked at me and said, "I don't want to catch you wearing my things ever again."

Accidental Romance

A man in a hotel lobby turns to go to the front desk, but he accidentally runs into a woman beside him and his elbow bumps into her breast. They are both quite startled. The man turns to her and says, "Ma'am, if your heart is soft as your breast, I know you'll forgive me." She replies, "If your penis is as hard as your elbow, I'm in room 436."

Dirty Laundry

There's an elderly couple who has reached that point in life, where sex isn't part of the itinerary anymore. One night, the wife turns to her husband and says, "Every time one of us wants to have a bit of a slap and tickle, we just have to say, 'Washing machine.'" A night passes, and the husband leans over and whispers, "Washing machine." The wife gives him a shove and informs him that she has a headache. A few nights go by and the same thing happens, but the husband is determined and he reckons he'll just give it one more try. He leans over and whispers seductively, "Washing machine." Yet again, the wife turns him away. However, a few moments pass and the wife's needs arises so she rolls over and recites the word, but the husband turns over and says, "Sorry love, it was only a small wash so I did it by hand."

Two Guys

Two men were talking. "So, how's your sex life?" "Oh, nothing special. I'm having Social Security sex." "Social Security sex?" "Yeah, you know, I get a little each month, but not enough to live on."

Heaven and Hell

Two friends die. One goes to Heaven and the other goes to Hell. The one that goes to Heaven begs the angel to let him visit his friend in Hell, and the angel agrees. He gets to Hell and sees his friend surrounded by beautiful women and alcohol everywhere. He says to his friend, "Wow, you were a son of a bitch when we were alive! Hell looks better than Heaven." So the friend in Hell says, "Pour yourself a glass of wine." The heavenly friend pours the wine, and notices that the glass has no bottom. The good friend looks at the bad one in confusion, and the bad friend says, "The glass has no bottom, and neither do the girls. Welcome to Hell."

Sexual Astrology

Capricorn (December 22 - January 19) Capricorns are the missionary position of the zodiac. Loyal, consistent, secure, Capricorns might not be creative, but they definitely get the job done. They're super reliable people, which means (good news!) they'll also carry a condom. Bedding a Capricorn is kind of like wooing a Salem virgin in the 1600s - prudent and reserved at first, but casting spells in bed later on.

Aquarius (January 20 - February 18) The inventive and exploratory Aquarius is like one of those kinky sex positions you find in a deck of Kama Sutra cards. Their sex fetishes are a little unconventional and daring, but if you aren't down, use the safety word. Due to their agreeable natures, they'll be happy to switch it up. Aquarius aren't judgers; they had their brief "experimental phase" in college and that one night with two Justin Bieber backup dancers. They're just as easy to be around as they are to fuck.
